

LITUANIA and ROMANIA

Two students meet outside their school

R-Hello.

L-Hi! How are you? I didn't see you here before.

R-I'm Nicolas, i'm from Romania. I'll stay with you this school year.

L-I'm Marco. And, where were you going?

R-I want to eat some typical lituanian foods. Could you tell me some of them?

L-Yes! Of course. We use to eat cepelinai. It's a type of dumpling made of mashed potatoes and mince. Another typical lituanian food is the kepta duona, it's like fried bread.

R-It sounds good. I'll try them. And... what about monuments in your country?

L- There are a lot of important monuments in Lituania! Some of them are the Museum of the victims of the genocide, built up in 1992, the History National Park of Trakai, and the Church of St. Constantine and St. Michailo Cerkve.

R-They must be beautiful! And, do you usually celebrate parties with yout friends?

L-Yes, we do. And no, I don't like parties very much, but I love family meetings! What would you like to do when you get older?

R- I want be surgeon in an important Romanian hospital.

L- That's a good idea, goog luck! I hope you like this country! Bye.

R- Thanks! See you tomorrow, bye!

Romania.

Una alumna erasmus y una profesora hablan a solas en su despacho.

P-Hello, I'm Sara, the philosophy's teacher. What's your name?

R- Hi, I'm Andrea.

P-Well, where are you from, Andrea?

R- I'm from Romania.

P- Oh, a beautiful country, could you explain me something about typical romanian foods?

R-In Romania, we eat a type of soup, named Ciorbă. There are a lot of salads, like the mujdei and the salată de vinete, and some desserts, like the turtă dulce (like gingerbread) and the gogoși, like donuts.

L-I want to try all them!

R-And, what about your monuments?

L-There are a lot of important p in Lituania! Some of them are the Museum of the victims of the genocide, made up in 1992, the History National Park of Trakai, and the Church of St. Constantine and St. Michailo Cerkve.

R- They must be very beautiful!

L- Yes, they are. Wich are the most important monuments in Romania?

R-Some important places in Romania are the Bran's Castle, known as the Dracula's castle, the Black Church in Transylvania and the Palace of Justice, in Bucarest.

L-Wow! So amazing! What is the most ancient monument of Romania?

R-Mmm... I'm not shure, because a lot of monuments have been demolished.

L- Oh... and, what would you do when you get older?

R- I want be surgeon in an important romanian hospital.

L- Nice idea, goog luck! I hope you like this country! Bye.

R- Thanks! See you in class, bye!
